Dear Miss Baxter,

Thanks for your note on the copy of the letter to Senator Morse and for your efforts. His administrative assistant read WHITEWASH in ms and said she was calling parts of it to his attention. I took him a printed copy. There has been silence.

Critics of the Vietnam war apparently have not yet seen that I have documented the answer to the question of the crisis in credibility as I believe it can in few more comprehensible ways be documented. If the government can so misrepresent and lie about the assassination of an American President, of what falsity is it not capable?

You may be interested in the very long article in the current New York Review of Books which I haven't yet had time to read.

We are having to reprint WHITEWASH. We'll have an additional 5,000 copies next week. But I do, very much, need a midwest distributor. I have four on both coasts and a local one in Washington.

Again, thanks.

Hurriedly,

Harold Weisberg
